Martinez, Contra Costa Count., Calif., Nov. 18, 1925

Dear Friend:
We are having a good many petty thefts, stealing of chickens, turkeys, store burglaries, and last night a safe was broken into at Brentwood.

I would suggest that we all use our bump of precaution more, and if you see any one who looks suspicious in your locality, or if you have any information to give, that you report it to your local officer, or call up Martinez 81, the Sheriff's office, so that we may have a line on them before they get away. A little caution on your part would greatly assist us.
We are very anxious to protect our people in every way, but we need the support of all you people. Therefore, I would ask you to be careful about your stores, banks, farms, etc.

A good many of our people are engaged in farming in a small way and they are entitled to just as much protection as any one. Keep your money and valuables where you are satisfied they will be safe. Be careful not to cash any bad checks.
If you haven't your stock branded, it will be well to make an individual description of them.
Farmers should mark their sacks. Turkeys and chickens can be marked by punching a little hole in the web of the foot. In a case of lost turkeys—the right number were found, and the parties who lost them were quite sure they were their turkeys, but were unable to identify them. Would ask that every one take an interest to the end that we may have first-hand information as to any suspicious characters.

The merchants should keep the safe where it can be seen by the watchman—the safest thing would be to have some sleep in the store.

The banker is pretty generally cautious, outsiders should be a little more so.

The automobile owner should be careful where he parks his car and surround it with as many safeguards as he can.
(I put my car in a garage at every opportunity.)

Respectfully,

R. R. VEALE,
Sheriff, Contra Costa County, Martinez, California.

A little caution. What a lot of money and worry that would save us. Unfortunately but few people, especially housewives know what the word means in the protection of their homes and property.

The wonder is not that so much stuff is stolen, but that so little is taken by thieves.

Few thieves according to police investigation, work on the spur of the moment. Their work is well planned. If you are in the habit of leaving your door unlocked while you are out. Leaving windows open

WHITE PLANES Dec. 5.— Every claim sustained. Every right indicated. Mrs. Alice Jones Rhinelander emerged victorious today from the four weeks ordeal of the annulment case.

The announcement of the jury's finding that five of the seven questions submitted in favor of the wife was given today.

Avoiding the crowds that surged from court Mrs. Rhinelander hurried to the offices of her triumphant attorney to arrange for the next move. The quadron wife announced that she would begin immediately a suit for separation against Leonard Kip Rhinelander through Lee Parsons Davis, her legal champion, she stated that she would sue for the separation on the ground of abandonment demanding adequate alimony.
She will apply for action on the new trial as soon as the jury's findings in the annulment case are embodied in the supreme court justice's decision.

With the annulment case definitely decided and the separation action under way Mrs. Kip Rhineland-er will, it is understood, launch an additional attack on the Rhineland-er family. This will assume the form of a suit against Philip Kip Rhineland-er for $200,- 000 for the alienation of the young bridegrooms affection. On that subject neither the victorious wife nor her attorney would carry on any discussion.

Under the existing agreement Mrs. Rhineland-er received $300 from her husband who must also pay the court costs of the annulment suit.

Word of Brother's Death Received by Mrs. J. Lehan

Mrs. J. Lehan, 1605 Chanslor avenue, received word yesterday morning, of the death of her brother, G. W. Sharkey, at the San Jose hospital at 2:30 a. m. yesterday. He had been ill for nearly two years and his death was not entirely unexpected by his relatives.

Sharkey, an employee of the Shell Oil company at San Jose, was a frequent visitor in this section of the county. He is survived by his wife, Emma Sharkey, and three daughters, Mrs. Estelle Hague, Miss Pearl Sharkey and Miss Ida Sharkey. He was a brother of Mrs. G. W. Henderson, R. J. Sharkey, J. F. and A.
B. Sharkey and State Senator William R. Sharkey of this city; Mrs. G. W. Selby, San Jose; Mrs.
J. Lehan, Richmond and Mrs.

U. S. Congress All Set For Its Opening Monday

By Universal Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Congress convenes next Monday in an atmosphere which forbodes a turbulent session, with the main fireworks centering on the proposal to bind the United States to the foreign world court, the national aircraft scandal, form of tax reduction, merchant marine policy and legislation to assure a constant coal supply at reasonable prices.

In view of the Congressional elections in 1926, the Democrats are laying their plans to make issues for these contests; and they will make the best of every opportunity to attack administration proposals.

President Coolidge does not intend to deliver his annual message to Congress in person, but the branches of Congress will assemble as usual in the house chamber, with justice of the Supreme Court, cabinet officers and other digni-taries in attendance to hear it read.

The regular Republican forces have a working majority in the House, although the insurgents from the Middle and Northwest are preparing to fight for their principles. In the Senate, a combination of minority factions can upset administration proposals.

Outstanding in the Senate program is the world court proposal with Senators Borah of Idaho, Reed of Missouri, and Johnson of California, as the leaders of the opposition.

Arguments that were advanced against the League of Nations when President Wilson demanded entrance, will be used against the world court. The attitude of the opposition is that the world court is a creature of the league and is subject to the influence of that combination of powers.

Recommendations by administration leaders to scrap the present system of operating the merchant marine and to substitute one-man control with an advisory board, are also to be opposed in Congress.

Senator Borah and others will push for legislation to give the President power to operate the coal mines in time of national emergency and also to keep coal prices within reason.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGE PLACED AGAINST TWO

MARTINEZ, Dec. 5.—Denio Colabras and Gordon Holcomb will be prosecuted for grand larceny instead of highway robbery because they did not use violence in holding up and robbing Carl Rydbert near the Shell Oil refinery, Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey announced yesterday, following the preliminary examination before Justice Frank Glass. Both men confessed to the offense on the witness stand.

Colebras testified that he talked with Rydbert while his companion "went through his pockets." The hearing showed that no violence was used. Both were held to answer to the superior court under bail of $3000 each.

W. H. WASTE IS APPOINTED NEW CHIEF JUSTICE

Governor Friend Richardson yesterday appointed William H. Waste associate justice of the supreme court of California, as Chief Justice to succeed Chief Justice Louis W. Mayers, resigned. Waste has served as associate justice for four years.

The governor also announced that within the next few days he would name the associate justice who will succeed Waste, and indicated that this position would be filled by an appellate judge from Southern California. In announcing the appointment, Governor Richardson stated:

I have appointed Justice Waste solely on merit, fully realizing that the position of Chief Justice is the most important office in the State. Justice Waste is peculiarly qualified. He has been a legislator, a superior judge, an appellate judge and a supreme justice.
During all his years of public service I have been closely related to his work. I know of his strict integrity, his fine ability, and his great capacity for work.
He is the logical man for the high position of Chief Justice, and has the esteem and confidence of the other members of the Supreme Court. In making this appointment I have followed my plan of promoting judges who make good.

Kills Wife for Finding Fault

(By Universal Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 5.—With a calmness that shocked veteran police Albert Devine, 44, a respected citizen of Albany today confessed that he had killed his wife with a hammer because she had quarreled and found fault with him.
Following his confession the body of Mrs. Devine was dug from the cellar. It had been buried on the night of September 6, after he had committed the crime and carefully prepared his own supper.

"I crushed her head with a hammer because she was forever nagging and finding fault with me. I stood it as long as I could and on this evening, when I came home from work tired and hungry, she persisted in arguing. I could stand it no longer," he stated.

"After I had placed the body in a hole in the cellar I was greatly relieved and slept soundly for the first time in many months," he concluded.

time since assuming the presi-

Fergusons are to Quit Politics at End of 'Ma's' Term

(By Universal Service)

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—As the result of an opinion handed down by Attorney General Dan Moody against the convening of the lower house of the legislature by petition of the members of the big Texas feud that has centered about the Ferguson regime may be ended.

Arthur Eldson chairman of the democratic state central committee has had several conferences with Governor Ferguson and her husband, and today expressed the opinion that the Fergusons have Governor "Ma's" present term.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB DEBATES

"Resolved, that Europe shall pay its war debts." This was the topic of a debate given by the members of the Richmond Cosmopolitan club at Richmond high school last night. Every argument imaginable was brought forth by both the affirmative and the negative and it was the opinion of the judge that since the last debate the speakers have improved from 150 to 200 percent.

The affirmative, upheld by Mario Ruiz, Carl Senoni and Jean Largente, was given the decision of the judges. The negative side of the question was told by Mario Bartoli, Louis Regallo and Alfred Hugger. He was declared the best and Hugger the second best speaker of the evening. Germany, Italy and Argentine were represented by the speakers.

Mrs. Emily Axtell, director of the Americanization work in this district, announced during the meeting that the last night class for prospective citizens of the United States would be held on Tuesday night. On Thursday the Americanization classes will have a Christmas party at the band hall of the high school.

The evening opened last night with the singing of "America Beautiful" by the whole class.
George Black spoke on "Why I favor the single tax" and F. S.
French spoke on "Why I oppose the single tax." George Alvarez rendered accordion solos, the men of the class pleased with three community songs. Guy Smith rendered vocal selections and the assemblage sang "America" as a closing number.

Those members of the class who received their citizenship papers last month, presented Mrs.
Axtell with a beautiful flower bowl in appreciation of her help in preparing the new citizens for their examinations.

Mrs. L. McCormack has returned to Richmond after an absence of one year which she spent in Sacramento. She will take charge

SMOKING COLLEGE GIRLS

Many are shocked to learn that Bryn Mawr College, in Pennsylvania, is going to provide smoking rooms for its girl students.

Always heretofore that college has opposed the use of tobacco. Now the head of the institution says it recognizes that a change has come about in the social attitude toward smoking women, and the college is obliged to recognize it.

Such action is not regarded as approval of this practice, but as making the best of the situation. An inquiry reveals the fact that more than half of the girls at Bryn Mawr smoke already. The college authorities believe it is better to have them smoking frankly than furtively in their own rooms.

That is probably true. It may be true, too, that there will be less use of cigarets when they are not forbidden than when they are. Men have no success in trying to monopolize tobacco. The appeal may weaken when there is no more adventure in it. And if tobacco is more harmful to women than to men, as physicians say, perhaps the women will find it out for themselves sooner or later, and act accordingly.

THE FIRST INVESTMENT

When young men ask, "What shall I invest in?" Rodger Babson makes this answer:

"Well, the first investment a man should make is in two bank accounts, a saving and a checking account. Secondly, every man should buy a home in which to live."

Only after this start has been made should the man of moderate means turn to other types of investment such as first mortgage bonds of established railways, public utilities and other corporations that are bought by local bankers and are proved sound.

It is pretty good advice too, for the young woman earning her own living.

This is a place where red tape ought to be eliminated and government departmental machinery speeded up a little.

See what an international security conference did for Locarno. Why not invite a disarmament conference here?

The American people will just naturally have to go in for aviation. Soon there won't be any other way of getting into Florida.

"I kept the peace in Europe for 25 years," boasts former Kaiser Wilhelm. Then he certainly made up for it.

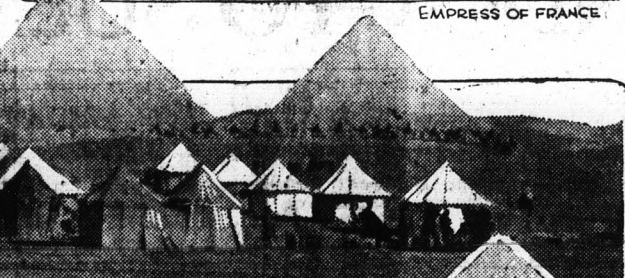

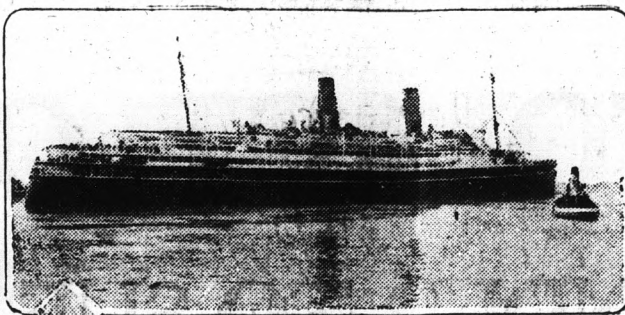

Yes, Christmas comes but once a year, but the enthusiastic celebrant can spend all year paying for it.

Fortunately, a great majority of Americans find work more pleasant than idleness.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sure, abolish the "nuisance taxes." Then there won't be any more taxes.

The ant may be a model of industry but there's no market for ant hills.—Binghamton Press.

Interviewing the Sphinx From a "Ship of the Desert"

Even under normal conditions, visitors to the Mediterranean and Africa always wanted to have an interview with the Sphinx, and have their pictures taken on camels silhouetted against the Pyramids, in the glowing light of a wonderful Egyptian sunset. But since the discoveries at the Tomb of Tutankhamen, with archaeological expeditions still digging up further relics of ancient times in the Valley of the Kings, Egypt has become more popular than ever with travelers.

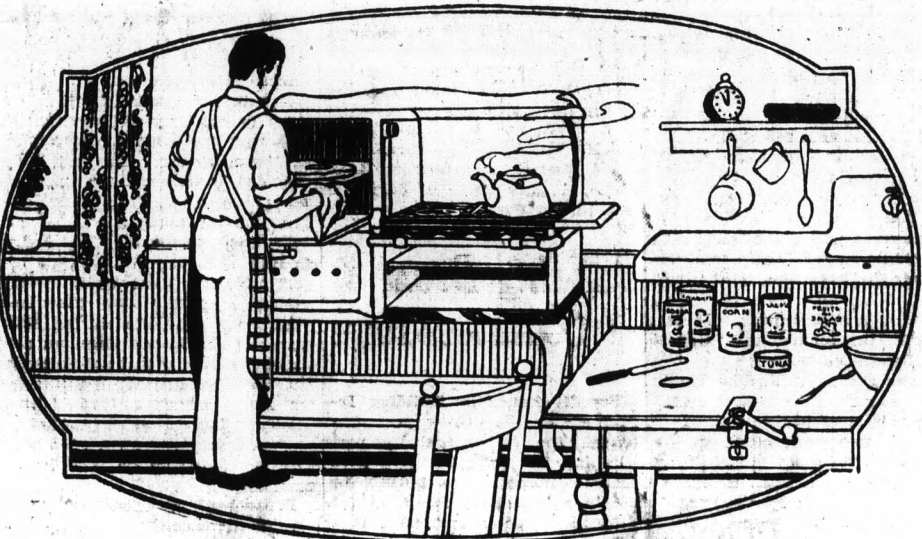

Cairo, in the heart of the Land of the Pharaohs, provides luxurious accommodation for visitors who yet have the fascination of seeing, on every side, the primitive methods and customs which carry one back to Biblical life and times. Disregarding the gay life which holds perpetual carnival in the leading hotels of the city, one may sally forth on motor trips or carriage drives to such unique places of interest as the Tombs of the Mamelukes, the Blue Mosque, the Amr Mosque, the Arab Museum, the Sultan Hassan Mosque, or one or other of the many Egyptian bazaars.

The Empress of France, which is a favorite ship of the Prince of Wales, will start on a Mediterranean cruise from New York February 9, 1926. Twelve days will be spent in Egypt, and seven days in the Holy Land, turning into reality the life long dream of many travelers who will have an opportunity to visit the Church of the Nativity, Bethlehem, the Mount of Olives, the Tomb of David, the Mosque of Omar, the Church of the Holy Sepulchre and the Garden of Gethsemane. For members of the cruise who wish to visit Nazareth, the Sea of Galilee and Jericho, there are facilities provided. In addition to the two long stops, there will be additional shorter stays at Madera, Lisbon, Cadix, Venice, Naples, Monaco, and about ten other principal ports.

Kitchen Economy From the Man's Angle

MEN long ago learned that no business could be successfully run without the application of systematic business methods. They feel that women, who have progressed in so many directions, should be more ready to apply to their own special activities the methods which men have found good.

These methods have made for success in running everything masculine from a carpenter-shop to a railroad. Why not apply them to running a home? Men claim that women do not use their brains in conducting their housework; that they get into a rut and stay there, doing things as their grandmothers did, instead of taking advantage of the various improvements and aids which modern science and invention have placed at their disposal.

The humblest artisan would not use inferior tools in his shop. And so wide-awake business men would equip his office with makeshifts and "get along with them," just because his father and grandfather before him had found them adequate to their needs. Yet many a housewife does these very things in her home, using left-overs and hand-me-downs in the way of utensils and employing methods of a similar outworn type.

Our grandmothers were compelled to do their own preserving, and spent long hours of hard work and drudgery in the doing of it. Much of the food they put up spoiled, because they lacked both scientific knowledge and proper implements. But, today, great canneries all over the country have taken over this labor, and are doing it according to the latest improved methods and scientific discoveries. Vast, complicated systems of machinery perform miracles utterly beyond the power of the housewife in her kitchen. Sanitary measures are enforced as not even the most scrupulous home-canner can regulate them. Through mechanical processes sterilization is achieved—as no amateur can possibly achieve it. And, through mechanical means of preventing oxidation, more vitamins are retained than is possible in home-cooking.

Why, then, should not the housewife utilize this splendid industry which saves her time, labor and responsibility, and makes it possible for her to give her family nourishing, palatable meals? While permitting her entrance to a wider field of activities?

He finds it all so easy—and speedy—that he cannot understand why his wife is always complaining of being overworked. The woman who has been clinging to old-fashioned methods will do well to take her husband's advice on the subject of modernizing them. Women, today, are using the masculine knifeknives and hair-cut, copying the masculine swagger and slang and freedom from convention. Why will they not also copy masculine business methods and apply them in their own special domain—the home?

Men have learned, too, that the use of up-to-date methods usually makes for economy. They have acquired the ability to discriminate between real and false economy, whereas the majority of women are sadly lacking in such discrimination. Going on the principle that they can save money by doing work themselves, they will buy large quantities of so-called fresh fruits or vegetables—many of which will have become spoiled by the time the housewife can get around to preparing them. She will spend weary hours over a hot stove, until, by the time the job of preserving is over, she is too physically tired to be a good companion to her husband or children, or to fulfill any of the outside duties which modern life entails upon her. The masculine mind justly regards this as a false and futile economy, from every point of view, when he considers that she could have purchased from her grocer, at moderate prices, the purest and best food there is, all in tins and ready to serve.

"Bobbied Hair"

A DAZZLING STORY BY TWENTY FAMOUS AUTHORS

Copyright 1924-25, P. F. Collier & Son Co. and G. P. Putnam's Sons
"BOBBIED HAIR" with Marie Prevost is a dramatization of this story by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS
Connemara Moore, having dived from the deck of a mysterious yacht into Long Island Sound, and swam to shore, is surprised to meet David Lacy on the beach. Just before midnight Connie had disappeared from her Aunt Celimena's Connecticut home and escaped with Lacy, whom she had never seen before. Then followed hours of wild adventure, in the company of rum-runners, and rescue of Lacy. Now Lacy is leading her on a five-mile jaunt to his farmhouse—for dry clothing.

CHAPTER XIV—Continued
By this time they were walking up the roadway to the house, and standing in the doorway, looking at them over her glasses, was "Miss Liddy" Parker, Lacy's cook-house-keeper. No need to say she was New England, the "Liddy" established that fact even before two minutes of conversation.

"Good morning, Mrs. Parker. This is—a friend of mine. We are in something of a plight, and we can tell you about it later if you will do what you can to find some clothes for her and then something to eat."

Mrs. Parker looked—and thought. Something was wrong, and should she allow herself to become involved? Who was this young woman, and why was she dressed in this manner? It was too unconventional. Mrs. Parker's life had never been that, and Mrs. Parker could see no reason why any other person's life should be. The pause became embarrassing.

"Don't you think you could find a dress of some sort for her?" Lacy was smiling sweetly and didn't seem as worried as he should have been. Mrs. Parker was a little reassured. In fact, she felt as though she could almost take a chance.

"I'll see what I can get her to wear," said Miss Liddy, "but I don't now what I can give you for breakfast. I ain't got a piece of pie in the house."

One would think, sleeping on such a troubled mind, she would dream of ships, pirates, million-dollar bills which would be changed into nickels and pennies, and having no pockets in her dress in which to put them, of jumping off boats and going down, down through a sea filled with all sorts of strange sea monsters dressed in slickers and wearing turbans. But Connemara was a most unusual girl and slept peacefully and almost comfortably. She never heard a step on the piazza outside.

The step was made on tiptoe, for a small, bedraggled figure, dressed in soiled white yachting flannels which hung in folds on it, was trying to make as little noise as possible. Not that it didn't want to wake Connemara, for after taking a look around to see that "the coast was clear," as they say in the drama, it reached in through the window and laid a hand on Connemara's shoulder.

"Wake up, for Pete's sake, Sister," said the shrill young voice of Sweetie.

"Maybe you have some doughnuts, then, or we'd even take some poached eggs and toast and coffee as a substitute. As a matter of fact," went on Lacy, "I think some eggs held down with a nice piece of ham or some bacon would make an excellent substitute."

And so, after many questions which kept Connemara frowning at answers, Liddy Parker produced a not too badly fitting blue linen dress that belonged to her school-teacher daughter in Bayville, and then left Connemara to dress while she prepared breakfast.

Connemara found a broad blue ribbon belt, also the property of the absent daughter-teacher, and with it replaced the soiled and torn bandage with a turban so tightly and adeptly wound that Gloria Swanson would have immediately written for the recipe. Aside from the fact that she felt paralyzed from the hips down, Connemara was almost herself, but only food could have induced her to take another step.

Lacy was waiting for her at the breakfast table. The coffee and rolls and bacon and eggs were on the table. "Miss Liddy says she did have a pie," beamed Lacy, "so we will have that for dessert."

"How quaint!" said Connemara before she could stop herself. Learning that there had been no word from McFish, and that no one around the place had seen him, Lacy after breakfast organized a small posse to move on to the hiding place of the Filomena. Before leaving however, he asked Connemara into the library and placed on the desk

The City Hall garage, 2325 Macdonald avenue, has been placed in one of the most advantageous positions in the city with the completion of the new paving on Macdonald avenue. The garage is in a rapidly growing section of the city and it is equipped to handle towing for long or short hauls and all kinds of repairing on automobiles.

Purulator System First Used By Chrysler

J. E. FIELDS

ONE of the things that shortens the life of a fine automobile engine is wear due to grit that gets into the lubricating oil," says J. E. Fields, Vice President in charge of sales of the Chrysler Sales Corporation.

"This was one of the very first things guarded against by Chrysler engineers and more than 18 months ago, when the Chrysler Six was introduced, it was fitted with a filter that purified the oil while the engine runs. It is due to foresight in providing such features as this that Chrysler Six engines can go on delivering the remarkable service that they do with a minimum of trouble.

"Chrysler was the pioneer amongst builders of motor cars in the adoption of the Purulator, as the oil purifying system is known.

"The leadership of Chrysler engineering methods is now once more apparent as the example of including an oil filtering device is now being generally followed."

FIGHT CALLED OFF WHEN DAVE SHADE IS HURT

Dave Shade, former Richmond school boy, and now the most promising contender for the welterweight championship of the world, had to cancel his bout with Jock Malone of St. Paul, scheduled for December 11, on account of a broken hand.

Shade is now in New York and according to reports received from there declared that while going through some strenuous training for the hard bout expected with Malone, Shade fractured the member.

The fight fans gave Shade great odds over Malone, due largely to his showing in the title bout with Mickey Walker, welter champion. Shade is still angling for a return bout with the title holder, but it is doubtful if it will be forthcoming as Shade put up a terrific fight the last time. It was largely proclaimed after the bout that the Richmond lad should have had the decision.

United States holds the world record for world records. During the past year 256 records were established by men and women athletes of this country. Of the new records 144 were made in swimming and 122 in track and field. Miss Agnes Geraghty holds the high individual record. She smashed 32 marks in swimming during the eleven months of the year.

Saints Run Up 61 to 14 Score On Fresno State

St. Mary's College yesterday afternoon became the champions of the Far Western football conference when they defeated the Fresno State college by the decisive score of 61 to 14. The Fresno warriors surprised when in the second period of the game when the Saints were leading 21 to 0, she pushed over two touchdowns.

Somewhat humiliated by this onslaught the Phoenix turned around and doubled its score in the third quarter by rolling up 21 points. Then in the final period they made three more touchdowns for a total of 19 points.

Saint Mary's scored the first touchdown in the first three minutes of play and from that moment they had the issue well in hand except for a weakening period in the second quarter. Fresno made one score by kicking, with the assistance of penalties and the other by recovering a fumble.

A total sacrifice of sportsmanship to prevent losing a game was reported for perhaps the first time in history at the Mt. Diablo high school, Concord, Friday night.

Seizing an opportunity made by a foul being called, the coach of McClymonds' high school of Oakland, walked onto the floor and called his basketball team to the showers just three minutes before the time of the final whistle.

At the time the score stood 19 to 18 in favor of the Oaklanders but it would have been tied had the foul been shot. Confronted by the possible loss of the game the Mac coach evidently felt that it would be better to be booed out of town than to take the chance. His team lost the game anyhow, as the withdrawal records a for-

SEEK EASIER GAMES

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The Big Ten conference of the Middle West is looking out for number one this year. Each team is seeking the easiest games it can find on the schedule for 1926. A good many of those who have played Nebraska annually for years and were walloped soundly this year want to drop the name next year. Illinois and Notre Dame are among these.

WANT LIMIT RAISED

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Major leagues, many of which have holdings in the majority of the minor leagues, want the limit of men to be drafted every year raised. The movement is growing every day and it is the opinion of many that it won't be long until the majors have an opportunity to take as many players from the minors as they wish to draft.

MANY RECORDS

United States holds the world record for world records. During the past year 256 records were established by men and women athletes of this country. WALKER BACKS OUT

There is one man in the world at least who seems to back Jack Dempsey in his methods of doing things. This is Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world. Tommy Milligan was all set for a chance at the welter crown when he was told that Jack Kegan, Walker's manager, and the champ himself had no desire to go through with the bout for a while.

BERKELEY WINS FOOTBALL TITLE

The right to play for the championship of California was won yesterday by the Berkeley high school football team when it took the Vallejo Apaches down the line by a score of 10 to 0 in the game that decided the title of northern California.

Vallejo dropped off a lot from the game of a week ago, when she held the Yellowjackets to a 7 to 7 tie. On the other hand Berkeley had improved and its team outplayed the visitors in every department and in every minute of the game.

The battle was waged in Berkeley Memorial stadium. Berkeley will play Salinas high school for the state "rag."

TAXES MUST BE PAID MONDAY

Tax payers of Richmond seem to be reluctant in paying this year's assessments, according to City Tax Collector J. O. Ford. Monday is the last day on which the taxes may be paid before the penalty of 15 per cent is added to the regular payment.

The taxes are already high, according to Ford, and the public is reminded by him that the time limit for the first installment of city and county taxes will be up on Monday.

Payments are coming extraordinarily slow this year, Ford said, and it is expected that many residents will be forced to pay the additional fifteen per cent.

Agent Reports Big Stock Sale

A deal has been consummated by F. J. Hulaniski, manager of the Wonder Gold Mining company, whereby a group of San Francisco capitalists have purchased $20,000 worth of the treasury stock of the company. The sale was made on the strength of the favorable reports made on the mine at Alleghany by the two mining engineers, who made a survey of the Wonder Gold mine holdings. Hulaniski reported that on January 1, the price of stock would be raised to 25 cents to one dollar per share.

"The plantation songs known as 'spirituals' are the spontaneous outbursts of intense religious fervor and had their origin chiefly in camp meetings, revivals and other religious exercises.

"They were never 'composed' but sprung into life, ready made, from the heart of religious fervor during some protracted meeting in camp or church, as the simple, ecstatic utterance of wholly untutored minds, and are practically the only music in America which meets the scientific definition of folk songs.

Success in singing these folk songs is primarily dependent upon deep spiritual feeling. The voice is not nearly so important as the spirit; and then rhythm, for the negro soul is linked with rhythm and it is an essential characteristic of most all the folk songs.

It is a serious misconception of their meaning and value to treat them as 'minstrel' songs, or to make them funny by a too literal attempt to imitate the manner of the negro in singing them, by swaying the body, clapping the hands, or striving to make the peculiar inflections of voice that are natural with the colored people. Their worth is weakened unless they are done impressively, for through all these songs there breathes a hope, a faith in the ultimate justice and brotherhood of man. The cadences of sorrow invariably turn to joy, and the message is ever manifest that eventually deliverance from all that hinders and oppresses the soul will come, and man—every man—will be free." H. T. B.

Healthful Drinks for Children

EVERY child should have at least a quart of milk a day. But sometimes it is hard to get children to drink plain milk. However it can be made tempting and the food value increased by adding a rich cream malt food with that delicious chocolate flavor children love. The malt is very easily digested and assists in the digestion of other foods. This malted chocolate comes in air-tight tin cans which protect its natural qualities during its trip from the packer to the pantry. To make a cool, healthful drink, pour a glass of cold milk into a shaker, or a glass jar or milk bottle, if you have no shaker. Add two or three heaping teaspoonsful of the malted chocolate on top of the milk. Cap tight and shake well. The children will not only delight in the drink, but in the process of making and shaking. For very young children, use only one teaspoonful of the malted chocolate. It may be served hot or cold.

Probably the person to be watched the closest is that one disguised as a house to house canvasser. It gives him a chance to look your place over, knock at your door, try the door if no one answers and in other ways get the lay of the land. Either then or a few days later he will make an unannounced call and help himself to a few things that he thinks he can use better than you.

A local ordinance requires that all solicitors calling at your door must have a police permit. Ask the next and all solicitors that call at your door if they have such a permit. If they have, well and good, if they haven't don't lose any time calling the police. It may save you a few dollars.

Another suggestion that may be irksome and take a little time, but well worth your while. Every time a solicitor calls take note of him or her and write the description down on your calendar with the firm they claim to represent. It may help you to recover some of your jewelry or other valuable articles some day.

By this we don't mean that all solicitors are crooks. However that is a method often used by the second story man and burglar in getting "the lay of the land." Protect yourself and cooperate with the authorities in letting the underworld know that Richmond is an unhealthy place for them.
